SIERRA MADRE, CALIF. THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1950.

NO. 44. NO. 27.

Around the Square

There's nothing quite so famous in this part of the country as Sierra Madre's streets. They're famous, and have been for a good many years, as the bumpiest, the dumpiest and the steepest (to the left and to the right).

And we tell you, dear taxpayers, it ain't right.

For nearly a year there has been roughly $100,000 in the bank for streets—state and county gas tax funds that can be used for no other purpose than streets.

In October of 1948 the City Council had before it a list of 22 streets that were due for repair.

In February of 1949—more than a year ago—the Council approved a list of streets for reconstruction. These included Baldwin, Sierra Madre boulevard, Highland, Auburn and Hermosa.

Nothing happened. Then when the rains were about to start, after practically nothing was done but a little section of Montecito which received a "seal coat" to protect it from complete disintegration, we were told that "you can't do street work in the rain."

We said, "Ok, fine, we believe you. But then you should be all set to go when the rains end."

Last February Councilman Herman Barter moved, and the Council adopted, a resolution ordering the city engineer to be ready to advertise for bids on the street improvement by May. This is May, but it is our understanding that nothing is ready for anything—much less the needed repairs on the city streets.

The new Council had promised something better in the way of action. But it appears that the new Council is now readying a whole new set of legal and engineering phrases to PROVE that we can't have any street improvements until the rains have come and gone again.

To reconstruct streets you have to meet standards set up by the state—if you use state gas tax funds. These necessary specifications were drawn up and approved. But then we got a new city engineer, Harry Shatto said to hold the whole thing up while he reconstructed Baldwin avenue again—on the drafting board. He wanted the drain on the east side of Baldwin—not the west.

We only have to say that the people don't care what right side of the street you put the drain on—just do it, and do it right. And as far as the people of this town is concerned, we might point out that it's getting to be considered a stall. That moot question of east side west side has "ragged" around here before among the brains. The people, however, never gave a hoot. They just want their streets. Not legal arguments why you can't have 'em or engineering arguments about why you won't get 'em now.

In this very technical world we just can't see how building a storm drain down Baldwin avenue is such an engineering brain racker that it takes years to solve.

While you're mulling it over, councilmen, try doing a little work on some of the other streets before that money gets mouldy. The taxpayers don't give you their dough to invest for them in anything but ser-

"NEW OFFICIALS" prepare to take over the city offices during Sierra Madre's annual observance of Government Day. The "officials," representing the three schools in the city, stand around the Council table in the City Hall, preparatory to taking over all phases of local government. First row, left to right, are Franklin Bradshaw, Edward Kinney, Mayor Paul Lancot, Dale Stopp, Johnny McKinley; Second row: David Rondeau, Ted Dammeyer, Susanne Sauter, Billy Dane, Wayne Perry, Edwin Hupp, Connie Perkins, Mary Difley, Bob Matter, Sharon Orr, and John Porter.

Pupils to 'Take Over' City;
All Offices Hit in Shake-up

A complete shake-up in Sierra Madre's governmental structure is imminent.

The NEWS exclusively learned this week that a "political coup d'etat," darkly reminiscent of European politics, is in store for Sierra Madre this weekend.

In the shake-up all levels of city government—from the mayor on down—are expected to be changed.

But don't phone the FBI yet. The "switch" in city officials is not only expected and planned—but temporary as well.

The occasion is Sierra Madre's annual observance of Government Day—the time children from the three Sierra Madre schools take over jobs of regular city officials.

The youngsters will preside at City Court Saturday and at the Council meeting Tuesday. Government Day is planned each year to give students an opportunity to learn just what is required of our officials. They become indoctrinated in civic positions they themselves may some day hold.

Replacing William A. Kinney as mayor will be Paul Lancot, a student at St. Rita's School. Paul will preside at the Council meeting Tuesday.

Other new "officials" will be John Porter, city judge; Edwin Hupp, city clerk; Bob Matter,

Ripple Calls for More
Pioneer Parade Entries

A call was issued this week for additional entries in the gigantic 1950 Pioneer Days Parade, scheduled for Saturday, June 10.

"We particularly need more musical units," Sterling T. Ripple, parade chairman, stated.

In explaining use of the word "unit," Mr. Ripple pointed out, however, that "nothing is too small."

"Even one man parading down the street with a harmonica," he said "would be permissible if he carried out the Pioneer Day motif in his dress or music. We hope for as many large units as possible, however."

Mr. Ripple said several organized school and military bands have been invited to take part.

Concerning other parade entries, he said individuals or organizations may enter anything old, unique, comical, or "pioneerish."

"The important thing is to turn in all parade entry blanks as soon as possible," he said. "Many have been received by mail already."

Blanks may be obtained at the NEWS office or through Mr.

Buy A Poppy,
Urges VFW

"Remember a disabled vet who can't forget," was the plea voiced this week by the VFW and Auxiliary as preparations were being made for Poppy Days in Sierra Madre, May 20-29.

Eugene Colbert, chairman of Poppy Days, said the drive will open Saturday with women of the VFW Auxiliary manning six "poppy" booths throughout the city.

He said poppies probably would be sold at the city ball park Sunday during the VFW Raiders' semi-pro baseball game.

"All proceeds from the sale of the 'buddy poppies' will go toward the hospitalization and rehabilitation of disabled veterans," Mr. Colbert said.

Post Office Starts
'1-Delivery' Service

Sierra Madre's Post Office yesterday began operation on the one-delivery-a-day basis ordered by Washington, D. C.

Postmaster Eddie R. Robertson said, however, that the regular two deliveries will continue in the business district.

Mr. Robertson explained that some areas of the city will have to be subjected to afternoon deliveries only—through no fault of the Sierra Madre Post Office.

He said mail carriers are taking only 30 minutes for lunch so as to speed up the necessary afternoon deliveries.

"We are doing the best we can, but we must comply with orders from Washington," Mr. Robertson stated.

He suggested letters to Congressmen as possible recourse for disgruntled citizens.

Sister Kenny Fund
Chairman Asks Aid

A call for additional volunteer workers was voiced this week as the 1950 Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation Campaign to fight polio was launched in Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Marie La Sala, local chairman, said 15 workers are now canvassing the residential and business districts of Sierra Madre, "but we certainly could use several more."

Concerning the Sister Kenny Drive, Mrs. La Sala said: "Give what you'd spend in having a night-out at club, theater, or cafe."

Purpose of the drive, Mrs. La Sala pointed out, is to get funds to acquire and maintain an established hospital facility, now under negotiation, where the complete Kenny treatment for polio can be administered. Money also will help in expanding the out-patient clinic in Los Angeles.

The drive will continue through May 31. Mrs. La Sala asks persons wishing to donate or give a few hours of their time to aid soliciting to contact her.

Kiwanians Hear Gilchrist
On Broadening 'Three R's'

Speaker at Tuesday's noon meeting of the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club was Dr. Robert S. Gilchrist, deputy superintendent of Pasadena City Schools in charge of instruction.

Dr. Gilchrist told Kiwanians that citizens should "demand that educators teach the 'three R's' but should be just as insistent that we emphasize other phases of training for life too."

"Some laymen want only the so-called three R's taught their children," Dr. Gilchrist said. "No one would say he prefers a 1932 model car to a 1950. That is something tangible, and few could dispute the mechanical superiority of the later model car.

"But when dealing with human beings," he said, "it often is impossible to change a point of view."

The speaker said laymen should ask that these "other fields of training" be included in modern curriculums:

1. With the tempo of living as rugged as it is, school children should be fully trained in matters of health; schools should be a healthful environment.

2. Since only one out of five high school students go on to college, secondary educators

A Proclamation:
Message from the Mayor

Whereas, the President of the United States has proclaimed May 20, 1950, as Armed Forces Day; and

Whereas, he has set forth this date "to honor the armed forces of the United States and the millions of veterans who have returned to civilian pursuits," and

Whereas, the President states that "it is fitting and proper that we devote one day each year to paying tribute to the Armed Forces as the servants and protectors of our nation; and

Whereas, our Armed Forces "are currently performing at home and across the seas tasks vital to the security of the nation and to the establishment of a durable peace;"

Now, therefore, I, William A. Kinney, mayor of the city of Sierra Madre, do hereby urge the citizens of our city to display the flag of the United States at their homes and at their businesses and otherwise give thoughtful recognition to the gallantry and devotion of the men and women who make up this great force of good that our nation will continue to grow and prosper.

William A. KinneyVOTERS TO ELECT SCHOOL
BOARD MEMBER FRIDAYSCHOOL IS PLACE TO VOTE TOMORROW

The Sierra Madre City School will be the only polling place at tomorrow's (May 19) election to fill one vacancy on the School Board.

School Superintendent Charles A. Skutt said this week that all regular election precincts of Sierra Madre have been consolidated for the purpose of the School Board election.

The polls at the school will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

White, Haymaker, Nuetzel
Seek One Vacant Seat

Sierra Madre voters will go to the polls tomorrow to fill one vacancy on the City School Board of Trustees.

School and civic officials have predicted a "big vote" and a "balloting battle" because of the unusually-high degree of citizen interest in the election.

There are three candidates for the one vacant seat:

Howell N. White Jr., incumbent trustee and a salesman; Herbert E. Haymaker, sales engineer; and Henry B. Nuetzel, commercial airlines pilot and former City Councilman.

School Superintendent Charles A. Skutt has announced that all regular election precincts in the city have been consolidated for the School Board election. All voting will be done at the City School, 141 W. Highland.

Mayor William A. Kinney this week urged all eligible Sierra Madreans to vote Friday so that "the outcome will be a clear expression of what residents want."

The polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

BOARD CANDIDATES
HEARD ON PANEL

The three candidates for the City School Board appeared on a panel last night, May 17, in the school cafeteria.

Presenting their stands on various issues and each one telling a little of his background, the candidates spoke briefly, then answered oral and written questions from members of the audience.

Candidates are Howell N. White Jr., incumbent, Herbert E. Haymaker, and Henry B. Nuetzel.

An outline of what the job of school trustee entails and a description of the duties and responsibilities was presented by Dr. C. C. Carpenter, deputy superintendent of schools for Los Angeles County. Dr. Carpenter is in charge of school boards of the county and their affairs.

The Coordinating Council and its member organizations was sponsor of the panel.

Guardsmen To March In Armed Forces Day Parade

All Sierra Madreans are urged to display the Stars and Stripes Saturday, May 20, in honor of the local and nation-wide observance of Armed Forces Day.

As an opening feature of Armed Forces Day in this area, the Sierra Madre Heavy Mortar Company, California National Guard, will join with other units of the 223rd Regiment and the Naval Reserve in presenting a spectacular parade in Pasadena Friday evening.

The parade, which will demonstrate the degree of armed might in this area, will begin at 8 p. m. Line of march has been designated as from the intersection of Colorado and Lake avenue to the Pasadena City Hall.

Local Guardsmen, parading in full-dress uniform, will be led by Capt. Sanford M. Ullman, commanding officer of the Sierra Madre Company. Major Paul C. Byrne will be in command of the 223rd Regiment. Reviewing the parade will be Major Gen. Daniel C. Hudelson, commander of the 40th Infantry Division.

A special Armed Forces Day feature in Sierra Madre is planned for Saturday evening.

Lewis Pushes
Bond Sales

As the 1950 U. S. Savings Bonds Independence Drive opened in Sierra Madre and throughout the nation Monday, R. C. Lewis, local Savings Bond chairman, urged all citizens to support the drive.

"By purchasing U. S. Savings Bonds," Mr. Lewis said, "we not only help ourselves by putting aside money for future use, but we aid our nation."

Through the establishment of regular savings, citizens build up reserves against misfortune and provide a source of income for their later years without causing a burden on others, the chairman stated.

Theme for the 1950 Savings Bonds Drive is "Save for Your Independence—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds." The campaign will continue through July 4.

Jury 'Hung'
In Hunt Case
'SCOUTING ON PARADE'
IS CAMPOREE THEME

After an hour and three-quarters of jury deliberations Monday afternoon, City Judge John C. Mead dismissed the jurors and ordered a retrial for William Henry Hunt, 482 E. Sierra Madre boulevard.

The jury of eight men and four women was unable to reach a verdict after hearing testimony for 3½ hours on the guilt or innocence of Mr. Hunt, who is accused of drunk driving and being intoxicated in a public place.

It was learned that the jury was "hung" on a 9 to 3 vote for acquittal. In criminal proceedings, a unanimous verdict is required to convict.

Throughout the long afternoon, jurors heard testimony from Sierra Madre Officers Paul R. Bird and Dr. Thomas

"Scouting on Parade" will be the theme this weekend when Sierra Madre Boy Scouts stage their annual Camporee on the Youth Hut grounds.

All phases of Scout training including camping and cooking, will be on display when the approximately 75 Boy Scouts of this city "pitch camp" Saturday.

Also planned for this weekend, to be held in conjunction with the Camporee, is the annual Cub Scout Corral—a time set aside each year for Cubs to exhibit their craft work. The Corral will be conducted with in the Youth Hut.

All Scouts and Cubs will assemble at the VFW Old Adobe at 12:30 p. m. Saturday, preparatory to marching through town to the Youth Hut grounds. Scouts will be in full dress uniforms and carrying packs; Cubs will be wearing their colorful uniforms. The units will parade from the Old Adobe down Baldwin to Sierra Madre boulevard, and east to the Hut.

On arrival at the camp site, units will be subjected to a close inspection by Scouting officials before and after pitching camp. Inspections will be frequent and comprehensive throughout the Camporee.

Under constant supervision of their leaders, Scouts will be graded during the weekend on all Boy Scout activities, includ-

An after-school program of recreation on the City School grounds is offered every afternoon for pupils of Sierra Madre.

Supervised play and activities are offered daily, from 2:30 to 3:30, by the Recreation Commission for pupils of grades 1, 2, and 3. Mrs. John Pascoe is in charge of the primary grades recreation.

For students of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades, P. R. Mitchell supervises a program of games and events from 3:30 to 4:30 every afternoon except Tuesday.

HERE'S BEAUTIFUL $300,080 Ruth Home—Sister Kenny Polio Hospital near El Monte which, contingent upon public financial support in the current Kenny fund drive, will become the first permanent facility on the West Coast providing complete Kenny treatment. The 100-bed building would be made available through arrangements with the Southern California Protective Society, which has operated the facility since 1930.

Miss Mosser To Compete At Catalina

Patricia Mosser, representative of the Sierra Madre Lions Club in the annual speakers contest, will compete in Lions District 4-D finals at Catalina on June 19, 20, and 21.

Miss Mosser, a student at Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School, recently won the zone finals in Whittier.

Last Thursday, May 11 she was guest of honor at the weekly meeting of the local Lions Club. After the dinner and program at the Woman's Clubhouse, Miss Mosser presented her talk between pictures at the Sierra Madre Theatre.

According to Sterling T. Ripple, spokesman for the Lions Club, if Miss Mosser wins in the Catalina competition, she will be eligible to compete at the state convention finals, to be conducted at San Diego in June.

Sky Parade For Armed Forces Day Planned Saturday

A sky parade of more than 325 military planes from Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force bases in California will pass in review over Southern California Saturday, May 20, in a mass demonstration of air power "Team for Defense."

In addition to the latest jet fighters of both Navy and Air Force, a special feature of the parade will be formations of military aircraft arranged in the order in which attacks were made on the Japanese Empire during World War II.

Of historical interest, three B-25s of the type used on the first carrier-based attack on Japan will lead the flight. They will be followed by Navy "Avengers," "Hellcats," and "Corsairs."

Armed Forces Day officials have directed their efforts toward affording as many Southern California residents as possible a sight of the air parade.

Lions Hear Judge McKay

At last Thursday's meeting of the Lions Club, Los Angeles Superior Court Judge William R. McKay was guest speaker.

Judge McKay outlined the history of the U.S. Constitution, explaining when, how, and why the various amendments were added. He particularly stressed James Madison's role in framing of the Constitution.

It was Madison who reportedly first used shorthand in this country, and his accounts of the Philadelphia are the only first-hand descriptions of that famous summer historians have today.

City Judge John C. Mead introduced the speaker.

RAILWAY EXPRESS RESTATES DECISION

The Railway Express Agency this week amplified its announcement of last week that the Sierra Madre Branch office in the PE Depot will not be closed.

In a communication to Sierra Madre Agent C. Johnson, Superintendent R. R. Ripley stated:

"As you have been previously informed, we have abandoned the thought of closing the Sierra Madre Agency and, as a consequence, instructed Division Supervisor Barlow to withdraw the notice to the public which was posted on April 25.

"It is suggested that you inform our patrons of the revised plans that they may continue to offer traffic at your agency for forwarding and likewise accept any traffic destined to Sierra Madre that might be held on hand."

WILCOX RETURNS FROM HAWAII

James C. Wilcox, 159 W. Grandview, returned home recently following a two-weeks' vacation trip to the Hawaiian Islands.

While there, Mr. Wilcox became an enthusiastic booster of the Island of Kauai, garden island of the Hawaiian group. "No one who visits Hawaii should miss Kauai," Mr. Wilcox enthusiastically stated following his return to the United States. "It is the loveliest island of them all."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Wilcox, James works in Los Angeles in his father's cafeteria.

Court 'Customers' Pay Parking Fines

Two parking violators were the only "customers" in Saturday's session of traffic court.

City Judge John C. Mead handed down a $5 fine to a woman charged with parking too close to a fire hydrant.

For overtime parking on E. Montecito, Judge Mead levied a $2 fine. Three offenders forfeited bail by not being present in court.

Guard Unit Has Openings

New openings in the ranks of the Sierra Madre Heavy Mortar Company were announced this week by Capt. Sanford Ullman, commanding officer.

The limited number of vacancies are a result of two factors, Captain Ullman said. Several Guardsmen have been placed on inactive duty because night jobs prevented their regular attendance at drill sessions. There also have been three recent enlistments into the regular armed services.

Charles W. Harris enlisted in the U. S. Army and left for active duty on May 9. The Captain said William Webster and Charles Wynn also recently completed boot camp as the beginning phase of their Navy service.

Both Webster and Wynn finished in the top 10 per cent of their recruit companies and, accordingly, received higher ratings upon graduation. Both men attribute this to their National Guard training, Captain Ullman said.

Men interested in joining the Guard Company should contact Captain Ullman.

Alcoholics Anonymous Members Attend Retreat

Retreatants last weekend at the Mater Dolorosa Retreat House were between 50 and 60 members of Alcoholics Anonymous. Members of the group believe it was the first retreat of "non-practicing alcoholics" ever to be held—and they hope the precedent will be followed throughout the nation.

Men taking part in the weekend of meditation and prayer were representatives of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, and San Bernardino counties.

A large percentage of the men were non-Catholics and, as a representative from Riverside put it, many had been agnostics while practicing alcoholism.

"None of us profess outstanding religious lives, but we all try to practice a spiritual life," the man from Riverside said.

In keeping with the necessary anonymity of the organization, Retreat Director Fr. Isidore O'Reilly, C. P., asked that no names be published.

The Alcoholics Anonymous spokesman said, however, that "we in AA accept a power greater than ourselves, I, as a non-Catholic, came to this retreat to improve my conscious contact with God through prayer and meditation."

He said AA members do not consider themselves above or below any one else. Each man at one time was afflicted with a "vicious disease—an allergy of the body coupled with a mental obsession."

"Men and women of AA always remember that they are just one drink away from being a drunk. And a person who has been sober only 24 hours is just as good a member as one who has been sober for 24 months."

The representative said he has made more than 500 talks before church, service, social, civic, and educational groups during the 42 months he has been a member of AA.

He described Alcoholics Anonymous as the "fastest-growing body in the world" having between 150, and 200,000 members today. There are 3000 groups throughout the nation.

It probably is the only organization in the world that has no officers or dues. No one is superior or inferior, but every member feels keenly interested in the closely-knit fellowship of persons having a common problem. The program would collapse overnight, "Mr. X" said, if its members lost faith.

The only obligation of the organization, he said, is that its members will try to go to the aid of another human being whenever called, be it night or day.

"We all will be forever grateful to the community of Sierra Madre which houses the Mater Dolorosa Retreat House, whereby we former alcoholics have the benefits of its sanctuary," the spokesman stated.

Pool Will Open With 'New Look'

Sierra Madre's Canyon Pool will open June 18 with a "new look." Recreation Commission Chairman Al E. Morgan said this week.

A complete renovating job inside the bathhouse and pool has been completed, Mr. Morgan said. Locker rooms have been "face-lifted" by the addition of a two-tone paint job.

The pool will remain in operation through the summer until Labor Day.

Buy A Poppy Saturday And Aid A Noble Cause

Saturday, May 20, and every day next week is Poppy Day in Sierra Madre.
It is fitting that Poppy Days and Memorial Day should fall within the same fortnight. On Memorial Day, we pay our respects to those who died in the battles of two world wars.
During Poppy Days, we pay homage to veterans who also fell in battle. These heroes are still alive today, but confided in the many service hospitals throughout the nation. Many will never rise again; some will yet regain their places in society.
It is in remembrance of these disabled veterans that "buddy poppies" are sold. Proceeds from their sale helps pay for the hospitalization and rehabilitation of our wounded.
The tiny replicas of the Flanders Poppy were introduced 28 years ago as a symbol of the sacrifices made by our war dead—and as an endeavor to help the families of the valiant.
Your purchase of the symbolic red flower means much to the disabled vet who made it for you.
Buy a Poppy and help a noble cause.

ARMED FORCES DAY

Guardsmen are sponsoring a Midnight Spook Show at the Sierra Madre Theater, all proceeds from which will go toward purchasing equipment for the Guard Company's softball team.
Captain Ullman said this week that, besides the showing of "spook" films, a military motion picture also is planned. Tickets for the Midnight Show may be obtained from Guardsmen or at the theater.

Posters focusing attention on Armed Forces Day have been circulated throughout the city, and several stores have set-up window displays in recognition of the joint days of honor for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force.

Armed Forces Day has been proclaimed by President Truman as a day in which homage is paid all branches of the service. In other years, each branch has conducted its own special "day."

"Response to this invitation has been enthusiastic," Mr. Ripple said. "Pioneer Days promises to be truly an all-community event."

He said there still is "lots of room" for additional contestants in the Beard-Growing Contest.

Sincerely yours,
R. C. Lewis, President.

Mrs. King, who lived in several states during her long life, for several years was superintendent of schools in Phelps County, Nebraska. She was a native of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. King came to Sierra Madre in 1906 and had lived at 361 Mariposa for several years. In 1918, she married S. R. King, who passed away in 1919.

She is survived by two sons, J. E. Hopwood of Sierra Madre and C. L. Hopwood of Baldwin Park; a sister, Clara Doten of Stewartville, Minnesota; two grandsons, and four great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Carl Smith officiated at the services yesterday, and interment followed at Live Oak Cemetery.

should strive to prepare students to enter a trade by high school graduation time.

3. Pupils—both boys and girls—should be prepared for home life. Dr. Gilchrist feels that youth need to be taught how to live, and even boys ought to be given some home economics training.

4. He suggests as a possible "fourth R" that young people should be trained in human relations, that they may become adept at respecting the "other fellow's rights."

5. Students should be instructed in the proper use of leisure time. By doing something "positive" delinquency and boredom are overcome.

Chairman of the day was Arthur Morse. The local Kiwanians were hosts to the Ontario club. Included among other visiting Kiwanians was Frank Lanterman, candidate for State Assemblyman from the 48th District.

School Board Candidates Issue Campaign Remarks

The three candidates for the Sierra Madre City School Board were introduced and given an opportunity to express their views last night at a panel discussion conducted at the school. Because of press-time limitations, the NEWS was unable to cover this meeting in full. The candidates, therefore, were asked to submit these advance summaries of their remarks for publication.

Nuetzel

I am extremely interested in all forms of education and particularly education in Sierra Madre. Recreation also is a necessary part of education because a healthy body aids a great deal in creating a healthy mind.

Since our school bond issue carried so successfully, my interest in seeing the new building erected has developed proportionately. I feel that the taxpayers should have a representative on the board who has had some building experience. Slight as it may be, I have within the past two years supervised the construction of four houses in Sierra Madre at a cost of slightly more than $45,000, or roughly half the cost of the new school building. I do not feel that we should allow either the builders or architects full and absolute control of our funds but that we should keep our fingers tightly clenched around the purse strings—and it is the School Board's responsibility to do this.

If elected, I will use every resource at my command to see that what experience I have had in building is not wasted. I believe that my experience on the City Council will be of value in letting contracts, accepting bids, and so forth. I feel that we should not deprecate the lovely building we now have, and I plan to see that this is not done.

In the past, I think that the school has been and is at present beautifully kept. But I do feel that the playground could stand a little more attention. Mute evidence are the worn-out shoes and skinned knees and knuckles of the many children who must play there. A little grass well planted without an automatic sprinkling system would do a lot to cure this situation.

The so-called doubling of sessions to me is unheard of. I feel that this can be avoided by rotation of vacations, thereby allowing a full school year rather than the present nine-month schedule. This would prevent weak eyes, frayed nerves, and confusion in general, and until completion of the building would act as a stop gap without injuring either teachers or students.

Haymaker

Education is as old as man. The stone-age man educated his children in the art and science of survival. His first needs were to secure food, shelter and self-protection. As he progressed he developed newer and better methods of acquiring the necessary food and shelter. All these developments were reflected in his education.

Education today is still the same, a process of learning the skills, arts and science necessary to meet our immediate personal needs as well as the responsibilities of a complex society.

Our present public school system is based upon the experience of hundreds of years of formal education. During its evolution the principles of education have remained the same. The changes have been in the development in technical subjects taught, and in newer, more efficient methods of teaching. Some new methods were tried which proved successful, and some were abandoned because they were not. Regardless of other changes, it is my firm belief that we must emphasize the importance of the "Three R's," ever bearing in mind that they are the basic tools of our entire educational system.

The problems of today's school administrators, and their governing boards do not differ in principle from problems encountered a hundred years ago. They must, as always, reflect the thoughts and wishes of the parents and taxpayers who are responsible for their existence. They must remain alert to significant trends and changes, yet always maintain the fundamental standards of our school system. They must be fair to the teaching staff, honest with the parents and taxpayers, and understanding to the requirements and financial ability of the community. They must operate on sound business principles, and must not be influenced by revolutionary, reactionary or hysterical groups within or without the community.

Unless we, as citizens, participate in our public school activities, we can not maintain a school which meets the needs of our children and the requirements of our community.

White

This is a community where a contested school board election is a healthy sign of a growing community interest in the welfare of the school—and nothing more than that. I feel confident that any one of the three candidates for the school board would do an acceptable job.

A good school has a direct effect on the market value of our real estate. The premium which Sierra Madre property brings on today's market is supported not only by our mountains, by our water, by our people—but by the reputation of our schools as well.

I am not going to discuss the pros and cons of the modern curriculum for the simple reason that a local school board, by law, has no direct control of the course of study. But the school board does have a direct influence on the success or failure of a local school.

A building does not make a school. A school is made of teachers. We have two ways of getting good teachers. One is by paying an adequate salary; the other is by making the school a good place to work.

We in Sierra Madre have maintained a salary schedule that is in line with the other neighboring districts. We must continue to attract and hold the best teachers available.

We have another incentive to offer teachers that not all districts are fortunate enough to possess. Our school has won a reputation among teachers as being a good school to work in.

During the current teacher shortage, with five vacancies to fill for the coming year, we received 35 applications, all acceptable, many outstanding. I think we can be proud of that.

We have paid for this and shall continue to pay for this within the legal tax limit. Of the 88 school districts in Los Angeles County, 81 have higher elementary general tax rates than Sierra Madre and the end is not in sight. But we, in Sierra Madre, will continue to live within our means.

I would like to reassure you about the scholastic standing of the school. By the achievement tests in the basic skills—the "Three R's"—Sierra Madre students are the equal of students from anywhere in the Pasadena system—and superior to the national average.

Conducts Tour

The Sierra Madre Guild to the Children's Hospital entertained five guests with a tour of the hospital's Convalescent Home Wednesday, May 10.

Guests were Mesdames Marcus Woodward, Stewart Matter, Hartzell Johnson, L. A. Moffett, and William Rhodes.

Miss Margaret Schwartz, administrator of the home, conducted Guild members and guests on a tour of the wards, dining room, kitchen, library, school room, and physical therapy department. There are 25 children in the home, convalescing from rheumatic fever, hemophilia, arthritis, polio, and other illnesses.

Miss Schwartz emphasized that clothing of all descriptions, suitable for children from 2 to 14 years of age, bibs, books and suitable pictures are always welcome donations at the home.

The Guild is planning a benefit for the Children's Hospital at the City School auditorium during the afternoon and evening of Memorial Day, May 30.

TB GERMS KILL 45,000 A YEAR

A tiny, rod-shaped germ, 1/10,000th of an inch long and about one-third as wide, the cause of the serious, chronic, communicable disease which we know as tuberculosis.

Despite their microscopic size, the germs which we call tubercle bacilli are killing close to 45,000 Americans a year and are depriving, at least temporarily, several thousands more of our fellow-citizens of their health, happiness, and normal way of living.

These figures were released this week by the County TB and Health Association in an attempt to impress citizens of the importance of having chest x-rays taken at least once a year.

Tharp Novel At Library

By Isabel Stradley

"The Peabody Sisters of Salem," by Louise Hall Tharp is not only delightful reading, but informative as well. For many years now, these sisters have been running in and out of books about New England. We have caught fascinating glimpses of them, but it has been only a glimpse, for the books are always about other people. It is time they had their own biographer, and now they are in a book of their own.

The book opens in 1833 and from the start the sisters are vividly drawn. This gifted trio lived in what has been called the golden days of the flowering of New England.

The Peabody girls, living in that heyday of American letters, knew most of the great intellectuals of the day—Emerson, Longfellow, Thoreau — to mention a few.

Sophia, the eldest, was married to Nathaniel Hawthorne. Mary, was the second wife of Horace Mann. Elizabeth, the third sister, eschewing ribbons and beaus for Greek and Latin, became a distinguished educator. Her West Street bookshop became famous, and she is credited with being the founder of the first American kindergarten.

Old Salem and Boston and Concord all come alive. There are many amusing bits. Mrs. Clarke of the famous boarding house, who had "a positive genius for thinking the worst and then spreading the news," and Mrs. Peabody, mother of the gifted sisters, who "could not help blaming her husband, not only for his ill success at providing for his family, but for his good success in adding to it!"

Other new books at the library are:

NON-FICTION: This Reckless Breed of Men, Cleland; Roof of the World, Rencourt; Visibility Unlimited, Grace; Next Week—East Lynne, Hurlbut; Doctor Has a Family, Barkins; I Married a Dinosaur, Brown; Big-Time Baseball, Hart; Amateur Painter's Handbook, Taubert; Giant Brains, Berkeley; Open for the season, Abbott; Jet Aircraft Simplified, Chapel; World's in Collision, Velikovsky; Educating our Daughters, White; God's Grace and Man's Hope, Williams; Art of Real Happiness, Peale; On Power, Jouvenel.

FICTION: One Winter in Boston, Smith; Heart of a Queen, Delves-Broughton; Homeward Bound, Chatterton; Serpent's Egg, Duncan; Under the Skin, Bottom; Gulf of Time, Standish; The Hebrun, Westcott; Boys from Sharon, Cooper; Plymouth Adventure, Gebler; This and No More, Freedman; Far Cry, Smith; Give Us Our Years, Banning; Long Discovery, Borgan; World is a Bridge, Weston.

AUTO CLUB'S TRIP OF THE WEEK

Fun at LAS VEGAS

Located within a few hours drive from most points of Southern California, Las Vegas has grown in recent years from a sleepy, desert town into a luxurious, exciting resort city that is now generally recognized as one of the West's most colorful playgrounds. Its great diversity of recreational activities and friendly western hospitality serve as a welcome tonic for motorists seeking fun and excitement.

- Approaching the city via U.S. 91 and 466, one passes the swanky "strip" section. Here, guests in dinner jackets or cowboy regalia dance to top name bands, see big-time floor shows and swim, ride, play roulette and rub elbows with free-spending film stars and travelers on limited budgets...
- Luxurious, palm-lined swimming pools gayly decorated with bathing beauties like the one illustrated in center photo are delightful features at most of the resort hotels in this section. Hotel and motel prices vary but are not considered expensive...
- Top photo shows night view of colorful Old Fremont Street in the downtown area which rivals in neon brilliance the famed "Great White Way" of Broadway. Las Vegas fun centers never close their doors, thus permitting tourists to enjoy themselves at any hour of the day or night...
- Within an hour's drive, one may find other attractions for the entire family. There is year-around fishing and boating on expansive Lake Mead; mountain activities at beautiful Mt. Charleston; dude ranches galore; and Hoover Dam, one of the world's great engineering marvels...
- During the early summer, Las Vegas climaxes its year of fun in the sun with its annual Hellsboro Days celebration (lower photo). Modern floats and ancient horse-drawn vehicles are featured in this colorful four-days of festive parading. Also included in the celebration are a sprinkling of bronco-busting, beard-growing and "just communing" with the Old West...

Motorists seeking an alternate return route may use the one outlined on the map which passes through several interesting Nevada and California desert communities...

EX-NEW YORKERS SCHEDULE PICNIC

Former "Empire State" residents and friends will gather at Sycamore Grove Park in Los Angeles Saturday, May 27, for the New York State Society spring picnic.

Muir Coeds Plan 'Fashion Memories'

"Fashion Memories" is the theme for the annual John Muir College Mother-Daughter May Day fashion show and reception to be given in the Rufus Mead auditorium this evening, May 18, at 8:15.

With more than 150 Muir coeds participating, including several from Sierra Madre, the event is expected to be one of the highlights in observance of Mothers' Day in this community.

Modeling round-the-clock clothes, a few of the acts are "I made it myself," "slumber-time," and "graduation."

City School Pupils Stage Intramural Track Meet

Last Thursday was "Track and Field Day" at Sierra Madre City School with boys of the school participating in an intramural track meet.

Judges for the afternoon event were Al E. Morgan, the Rev. Carl Smith, John Rasmussen, Councilman Noren Eaton, Ralph Hurwit, City Judge John C. Mead, Superintendent Charles A. Skutt, P. T. Mitchell and Ralph McWade.

Pupils competed in five events in classes based on height, weight, and age of the athletes. The events were the 50-yard dash, baseball throw, "saucer" throw (not flying variety), high jump, and broad jump.

Only casualty to mar the afternoon's activities was Richard Lees son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lees, 312 E. Grandview. Richard suffered a simple fracture of the right arm while taking part in the high jump. His last successful jump of 3 feet, 7 inches, however, earned for him the second-place ribbon in his division.

High Jump: Gary Pickett, first place, and a three-way tie for second—Danny Armstrong, Richard Crook, Malcolm Worthington, class A; Alex Bambico, Eddie Ower, and Peter Garcia and Mike Forester (tied), class B; Tommy Flenniken, Rickey Hobson, Hugh Anderson, class C-D; John Douglas, Richard Lees, and Ernie Logan, class E-F-G.

Ribbons will be presented to the various winners at a school assembly during the last week of school.

Officiating during the dedication and blessing ritual was the Most Rev. J. Francis A. McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles.

Fr. Isidore O'Reilly, C. P., local retreat director, termed the afternoon event "inspiring and most successful."

Principal address of the day was presented by the Rev. Patrick Roche, superintendent of schools for the Los Angeles archdiocese. Representing the laymen of the Catholic Church was Albert C. Berghoff, national president of the Catholic Laymen's Retreat Association.

Following the dedication service, guests were conducted on an "open house" tour of the new retreat house. At 6 p. m., approximately 185 invited guests were served dinner at St. Rita's Church by members of St. Rita's Altar Society.
